WAACLALS is an affiliate member of the African Commonwealth Literature and Language Studies- ACLALS. The journal, Griot, is international and may rotate from country to country in the region, depending on where the executive committee is domiciled

The journal draws its essays essentially from conferences of the Association and they are usually themed.

However, as the need arises, special volumes are published outside of the conference papers. All submissions are competitively evaluated to select essays that meet the maximum standards of quality set down by the journal.

Authors are advised to pay attention to the following:

1. All articles should be set on 1.5 line spacing and at 12 points in Times New Roman typeface.
2. Articles must include Abstracts of not more than 150 words, and should not exceed 18 pages of A4 paper. This includes references set in the M.L.A., 7th edition style sheet.
3. Only the first page of the article should indicate the name(s) or other personal details of the author(s) e.g. institutional address(es), email, telephone numbers(s), etc.
4. All graphs, charts, and other illustration materials should be drawn on white paper with Indian ink to ensure sharp and clean reproduction.
5. Manuscripts are accepted for publication on the condition that they have not been published or accepted for publication elsewhere. Furthermore, all manuscripts must have been presented first at a conference organized by WAACLALS and reworked after the conference.
6. All submissions should be sent in Microsoft Word or as PDF attachments to the journal email address; Griot.WaACLALS@gmail.com.
7. All submitted articles must be accompanied by an assessment fee of $10.00 (Ten Dollars) 8. The Griot-a WaACLALS journal is published once a year, except in such circumstances where special volumes are issued. In this case, two volumes may appear in a year.
